VILAS, MESA AND LAMAR SCHOOL PUPILS ENTERTAIN PARENTS AND MANY FRIENDS

Interesting Exercises by the Upper Classes Mark End of 1910 School Year.

Halls of the Vilas school, the newest of El Paso's array, were crowded Wednesday afternoon with fathers and mothers and friends. Since the pupils of the newest school rank no higher than the sixth grade, there were no speeches or singing, but instead there was a handsome display of handicraft, of which Mrs. M. L. Patterson, the principal, is justly proud.

Over the walls were arrayed all manner of school work. The first grade work showed paper fancy work of a great variety of designs, and the second grade, painting, cut paper work, clay modeling, and greatest in importance and work, a doll's house, complete in every detail. Some dainty weaving work was credited to third grade pupils, while the fifth grade boys displayed some carpentry work. The sixth grade work consisted largely of painting and sketching, but the boys showed two red coasters, three wheeled affairs designed especially for El Paso hills.

Of especial interest to the visitors was the sewing display in which the various grades combined. There was nearly every manner of garments, all the result of hard work. Each pupil was represented by a hand made copy book containing exercises and displaying the varying penmanship of the different grades.

ALWAYS THE WAY.
Little Willie Wigglehead
Was to speak his piece, but fled,
And the things that teacher said
Must not be repeated here.
Little Mary Marigold
Was so very, awful bold
As to do as she was told—
Such a little dear!

Life in truth, is ever so
For in after years we know—
When school days are long ago
Still shall have her say.
Mrs. Mary Wigglehead,
It may be quite safely said,
Then as now will be ahead
In a speaking way.

REAL GRADUATION
EXERCISES AT LAMAR

The graduation exercises of the eighth grade pupils of the Lamar school, held Wednesday afternoon in the school auditorium, were as was intended by the teachers, "old fashioned," the desire being to escape the months of training necessary for the production of a class play, believing the change would be appreciated.

There was a representative attendance of parents and friends of the graduates, and also a large number of lower class students.

The class established a record in that the entire membership, numbering 25, were awarded certificates of promotion. They are:

Anna May Allen, Hattie Armstrong, Verda Barnes, Ruby Bennett, James Boyd, Pearl Ruth, Dorothy Condon, Lucille Cooper, Verne Dalton, Ray Darnall, Blanche Gaul, Bessie Gilson, Jack Hawkins, Ashton Hawkins, Dean Harper, House, Hildegard Howell, Rosemary Hall, Ramlee Jusjohnor, Frank London, Joe Ochsner, William Race, Clair Ruby, Florence Sanders, Shelby Shive, Ray Sidebotham, Curtis Williams, Henry Weidrich, Ina York.

The auditorium was decorated with the school colors, yellow and green, the blackboards were also decorated. The stage was banked with evergreens.

The graduation program, given under the direction of Miss Alice Fitzpatrick, principal, included a piano solo by Miss Blanche Gaul, a declamation by John House, whose subject was "The Union," a piano duet by Miss Mignon Cannon and Miss Hildegard Howell; also vocal selections by Miss Dorothy Condon, who has a pleasing voice.

One of the interesting features of the program was a reading of the subject: "Resolved, that public service corporations should be controlled by the public for the public benefit," which was decided in favor of the affirmative, represented by Clara Ruby and Clara Williams. The opposing orators were Shelby Shive and Harold Detwiler. The judges were J. H. Harper, Miss Florence Goddard and G. R. Cadiz.

An address by Rev. P. J. Rice, pastor of the First Christian church, was also given. He advised the grasping of every opportunity presenting itself, stating "there is no future that has not its roots in the present." The building and maintaining of character was also urged upon all.

The musical features of the program included several chorus selections by the eighth grade pupils.

Following the exercises, an informal reception was given by the teachers of the school, at which Miss Condon gave other pleasing vocal selections.

INTERESTING ENTERTAINMENT
MARKS CLOSE OF MESA SCHOOL

Eighth grade pupils at the Mesa school entertained their parents and friends Wednesday afternoon in the assembly room of the High school. Every seat in the auditorium was occupied through an enjoyable program of music and oratory.

Most elaborate of the numbers was the doll exhibition, one of really live dollies. They were led out by Lillian Buchez. Their identification follows: Wax doll ..... Guida Mayer
Topsy ..... Antoinette Ha
Topsy ..... Antoinette Markin

Indian doll ..... Evelyn Woods

There was much laughter over the dry wit of Mark Twain when Karl Meier recited from "Tom Sawyer." He was assisted by Shelly Warnock, who took the part of "the city boy."

Chorus parts were especially attractive. The eighth grade opened the program with two songs, while seventh grade girls sang "The Fairies' Moonlight Dance." Other numbers were: Declaration ..... William Taylor

FUNSET COMPANY MAY GET THE CAN

Volunteer Fire Department
Gives Them a Week to Get Together.

The Funset fire slingers are in a fair way to be disbanded by the department. Think of the "silk stocking brigade" being ignominiously fired out of the department! But that is exactly what is going to happen if they do not hold a meeting next Wednesday night and pledge themselves to meet regularly once a month and respond to all alarms in their district.

The company has not held a meeting since December, their absence will be was present. Two meetings have been called since then, but there has been no response except from a faithful one or two. Wednesday night a meeting was called, but only four members and the committee from the central body were present. There was no meeting and the committee from the department said some things. It was about like this:

"We will give Funset company one more chance. Call a meeting, Mr. Secretary, for next Wednesday, May 25, and say to all members that if they are not present they will be considered as a resignation from the department and the company will be disbanded unless there is a quorum of present members. If there is a quorum, the company will be continued and all absent members will be dropped from the rolls of the department and those present will be given a chance to re-entire the company to its full membership of 30 members."

"This is the ultimatum," the Funset fire slingers will have to attend this meeting next Wednesday or the company of bankers and silk stockings will be a thing of history.

tion of the protection policy. He attributed the high cost of living to increased gold production, to demand crowding supply, to extravagance of a few, to the tariff, and to almost everything else but the tariff.

Wants Tariff Revision.
Mr. Hamilton is chairman of the territories committee of the house and his speech is likely to figure conspicuously in the next Republican national campaign propaganda. He favored the creation of a bureau in the department of commerce and labor to permanently carry on the work now being done by the tariff board, supplementing it with a corps of foreign speaking experts the reports of whose investigations of selling prices and labor costs at home and abroad would furnish a standard of measure of conflicting claims in the framing of a tariff law.

He contended that the tariff plank in the Republican platform provided both upward and downward limits and that "by so much as you raise duties above the difference in cost of production at home and abroad, after due allowance for the foreign custom of selling goods cheaper abroad than at home, you lay to overcharge domestic consumers."

Our Factory Output.
"We now have 600,000 factories, employing 6,000,000 people, keeping time to the demands of 90,000,000 folks," he continued. "The protection policy has built up an annual factory output of $12,000,000,000, paying out $3,000,000,000 in wages and has kept the machinery of protection in motion until it has developed a horsepower equivalent to 50,000,000 men. The country never was more prosperous."

"The farmer has been caricatured by cheap city humorists, preyed on by grasshoppers, locusts and money sharks, and misled by predatory politicians. Now he has come into his own and I am glad of it. He is one of the safest, soundest, cleanest elements in our civilization. The city would have dried up, rotted or exploded but for the country that came into town day before yesterday."

Too Many in Town.
"Too much of the country has been coming into town though. The farmer is receiving only a fair price but mid-wisely directed, will cause her to give to her little ones only the most wholesome and beneficial remedies and only when actually needed, and the well-informed mother uses only the pleasant and gentle laxative remedy—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—when a laxative is required, as it is wholly free from all objectionable substances. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

diemen are charging too much for handling and trying to attribute the responsibility to the farmer. The time has gone by, however, when thirty men can take toll of the farmer and out of the consumer and fool both at the same time.

Mr. Hamilton charged the cheap politician with singing one song in the city and another, of a different tune, in the country. He described the situation as filled with contradictions, everybody blocking to locate the blame for high prices.

Voting Discontent.
Bills, resolutions, investigations, strikes, anti-egg societies, anti-food trust and vegetarian organizations are rampant and in the midst of it the Democratic men, after time honored custom, are diligently trying to convert discontent into votes.

Golden Age of Spotlight.
"We are getting farther away from the old fundamental human relations that sustain and console folks. We are always going somewhere and going very fast and generally go our ways separately, although we jostle one another on the sidewalk. It is an age of steam engines. We run the machine and the machine runs us. The talk on the street today becomes the law tomorrow. Politics means parties, parties the people and parties have to have leaders and chief priests and scribes and pharisees and camp followers."

The Cold Storage Problem.
Discussing unscrupulous dealers and the segregation of food supplies, Mr. Hamilton declared the cold storage system made it possible, if not customary, for the frozen remains of an ancestor to remain in cold suspense until its progeny had grown to middle age and then for them to meet in fricasseed reunion on some bill of fare, both as strictly fresh. The unmaternal incubator had become the mother of the chicken.

"There shall not grow up among us," concluded Mr. Hamilton, "a privileged class above the law. This government shall wisely control men and associations of men. The government shall not fall of its mission among men."

A Good Word

In Bad Health

"I must speak a good word for Cardui," writes Mrs. Viola Baker, of Floral, Ark.

"About a month ago," she continues, "I was in very bad health. I was so weak and nervous that I was not able to do my housework."

"My husband bought me one bottle of Cardui. I took it according to directions, and now I am in good health. Cardui is a fine medicine for weak women."

This is only one opinion out of many, but so many women are of the same opinion, judging from similar letters which they write, that there must be some truth in it. Won't you try Cardui and see?

It may be just the tonic you need, for that worn, tired-out, run-down feeling.

Cardui is purely vegetable. It contains no minerals to settle in your bones and joints. It acts gently, so it can't do you any harm, and it is nearly sure to do you good.

For sick women, who suffer from womanly pains, such as headache, backache, sideache, etc., and for weak women, who are nervous, worn-out, tired, irritable and lack the energy to look after their work, Cardui is the same kind helping hand that helps them over the rough places and makes them feel "better." Try it.
